

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

VOLUME XVIII.—NO. 18.

LOUISVILLE, SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1907.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GREAT TRIBUTE

Paid Cardinal Gibbons by Congressman Randall at New Orleans.

Ever Doing Good to His Country and His Fellow Men.

A Churchman of Whom Every Catholic on Earth Is Proud.

DUTY DONE AND HONOR GAINED

At the reception to the prelates that followed the conferring of the pallium on Archbishop Blenk, at New Orleans last week, there was a distinguished gathering. One of the most eloquent and feeling addresses ever heard in the Crescent City was that of Congressman Randall, who spoke in part as follows:

"As we read the story of the last forty-six years—the most eventful, enlightened and progressive period in the history, not only of our own country, but of the globe—we find the name of James Cardinal Gibbons, one of its brightest pages, and in the very highest rank, as priest, bishop, cardinal, author, statesman, and patriotic American citizen; ever in the lead, and ever doing good to his country and to his fellow-men, Catholics and non-Catholics. It is a long record of years since the young levite was ordained a priest of God, in July, 1861, nearly forty-six years ago; and it has been a continuous succession of duty done and honor gained ever since. Bishop of North Carolina at the age of thirty-four years, bishop of Richmond at thirty-eight, archbishop of Baltimore at forty-three, and cardinal at fifty-two; forty-six years a priest, thirty-nine years a bishop, twenty-one years a cardinal, and ever doing his Master's work with the greatest zeal, the highest intelligence and the broadest statesmanship; a churchman of whom every Catholic on earth is proud, and a citizen of the United States whom every American delights to honor.

"I saw him at the World's Parliament of Religions in Chicago nearly fourteen years ago, surrounded by representatives, ministers, priests and prelates of every religion on our planet. It was an intensely interesting, a distinguished, a brilliant throng. Leaders of religious thought from every country of the world were there, to speak for their own systems in a spirit of love and amity to others, to promote good fellowship and exchange ideas. Such a sight has never been seen on earth before, since the morning stars first sang together at creation's dawn, nor ever since; and the man of most magnetic personality, whose address attracted most attention, for its eloquence, its wise charity, its comprehensive statesmanship, and its able defense of his own religion, was our guest of this evening, the Cardinal Archbishop of Baltimore.

"Our Catholic ancestors played an important part in creating a republic, and the most conspicuous instance in history of religious freedom in the early days was in the Catholic province of Maryland, over which our distinguished guest has so long, so successfully reigned. Under the benign rule of its founder the Catholic Lord Baltimore, religious freedom was established in Maryland about 1640, and all of those who were persecuted in Massachusetts, Virginia and the other colonies, on account of their religious faith, were cordially invited to Maryland, and guaranteed the right to worship according to their own consciences. This was very remarkable when we consider how intolerant the world of that day was, and the bitter religious animosities in the other American colonies.

"On behalf of this metropolis of the South I desire to express to you, most reverend archbishops, right reverend bishops, very reverend and reverend fathers, and other prominent visitors who have honored the ceremony of the investiture of Most Reverend Archbishop Blenk with the pallium, our heartfelt gratitude for your presence, and our earnest hope that your visit has been as pleasant to you as it was honorable and beneficial to us. This meeting together of prelates, priests and laymen from North, South, East and West, and from our sister republic across the sea, Cuba, the 'Queen of the Antilles,' for our encouragement and to honor our archbishop, will make us stronger, and be of great help in our efforts to be faithful and true to the cause of man and God which you, distinguished churchmen, represent so ably."

PENTECOST MISSION.

Rev. Father William Gausepohl has arranged for a great mission for the people of St. Mary Magdalen's parish and Catholics of the city generally, which will begin with the high mass on Pentecost Sunday, May 19, and continue all the week, ending with the Papal blessing at the solemn vespers on Trinity Sunday, one week later. This mission, which is conducted by the Rev. Fathers Bourne and Leary, of the Society of Jesus, two of the ablest and most zealous of the Jesuit order. Father Bourne, who is a Marylander and a relative of the great Gen. Robert E. Lee, is well known to the laity of Louisville, having conducted successful missions here in past years. Father Leary also has a national reputation as an orator and missionary, and Catholics generally commend the zealous pastor of St. Mary Magdalen's for bringing here two such distinguished priests. The hours for the services will not be made known until next week, but they will doubtless be the same as at the other missions recently held here.

BODY OF POPE

Will Be Transferred to the Church of St. John at Night.

A dispatch from Rome says that it has been finally decided that the body of Pope Leo shall be transferred to the Church of St. John late at night and as privately as possible. The idea of asking the Government to assist in the ceremony and to guarantee the safety of the procession conveying the remains has been abandoned. The Pope told Cardinal Satolli that he was convinced that he was interpreting his predecessor's wishes correctly in seeking to have privacy observed. Cardinal Satolli and other members of the Sacred College comprising the funeral commission concurred in this. Cardinal Satolli says that if the procession was public no number of troops the Government might supply could prevent a single disrespectful shout that would be constituted an outrage upon the corpse.

FUN FOR ALL

Promised by Minstrels For Catholic Women's Club Tuesday.

The minstrel show to be given next Tuesday evening at St. Mary's Hall, for the benefit of the Catholic Women's Club, promises to be the greatest affair of the kind witnessed in Louisville for years, and the equal of many of the professional companies regularly appearing here. Following a high class first part will be an olio that will bring laughter to all. A feature will be the appearance for the first time of an orchestra composed of popular society young men who realize a nice sum for the building fund of their club. In addition to the foregoing the Uniform Rank of the Catholic Knights of America will be on hand to assist in making the evening one of real pleasure. The Catholic Women's Club is doing a noble work in this city, and all who can should show their approval by attending the minstrel, where they will be well entertained.

MOURN HIS DEATH.

Dr. David Yandell Walsh Was Stricken Last Sunday Morning.

With feelings of deep and sincere regret we announce the sudden and unexpected death of Dr. David Yandell Walsh, which took place at his home, 1555 Third avenue, last Sunday morning. Dr. Walsh was in Columbus, Ohio, about three weeks ago, and while there was taken ill with pneumonia and removed to St. Francis' Hospital. He grew better and was taken to his home in this city Thursday night apparently recovering. He stayed in bed, however, until he should become entirely well, and died suddenly.

Born and reared in Louisville, Dr. Walsh was graduated from Centre College, after completing his course in the public schools. Later he went to Harvard and took a post-graduate course. Dr. Walsh was an excellent and well known athlete in his school days. He had practiced medicine here for eight years and was well known. He is the son of Patrick F. Walsh, the fourth-street tailor, by whom he is survived. He also leaves his mother and one sister, Miss Ada Walsh. His many excellent qualities secured for the deceased universal respect, and charitable to a fault, his death will be deeply deplored by many poor patients. The funeral took place from the Cathedral and was one of the largest seen there for some time.

APPOINTED INSPECTOR.

William J. Sullivan, former Chief of Detectives, and until this week a member of the force, was on Wednesday appointed to the office of Assistant License Inspector, succeeding John Drescher, who resigned to enter the real estate business. Capt. Sullivan is in every way qualified for the place, and his appointment will be received with general satisfaction.

THE CHILD'S DAY.

Tomorrow morning at St. Charles' church and the Sunday following at St. Mary Magdalen's will be memorable days for the children of these parishes, who will then receive their first holy communion. This is the day of days for the Catholic child, and Fathers Raffo and Gausepohl look forward to this annual event with great pride. Each year St. Mary Magdalen's will be escorted to the altar rail by a candle bearer, and the beautiful sight will be one never to be forgotten. At both churches the classes will be larger than heretofore.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS

Explain Object and Advantages of Order at Open Meeting.

The Catholic Order of Foresters, organized in 1893 and now having 1,500 subordinate courts and a membership of 118,000, with an accumulated benefit fund of $1,100,000, has entered the Louisville fraternal field, and not without prospects of success. Last December St. Boniface Court was instituted and has since prospered most satisfactorily. In response to invitations sent out there was quite a gathering at St. Boniface Hall on Thursday night of last week to hear the objects and advantages of the order set forth, and so well was this done that the meeting is certain to bear good fruit.

Anton Huckenbeck welcomed the assembly in a few well chosen words and introduced Rev. Father Leander Schell and Eusebius Wagner, who have for years been identified with the Catholic Foresters in the Northwest, where they are very strong. They fully explained the social and fraternal benefits and predicted that ere long the membership would be doubled. This is the day of insurance for everything, they said, but most important of all was that of life, which protects parents, wives and children and saves young men from entering forbidden societies. It is the duty of every man to insure for the benefit of his family and the duty of fathers to see that their sons are included in some Catholic society. Secretary William F. Krul stated that the Foresters are the first and safest among the insurance societies, and read reports from Washington which bestow praise upon the order. There were no high salaried offices and no chance of mismanagement, and with the rate of assessments in force sick benefits were also assured. Charles J. Besse, William McDonough and Henry Besse, Jr., also had words of encouragement for the Foresters and pledged St. Boniface Court their support. Pleading features were the vocal and instrumental numbers rendered by Messrs. Fred Wells and Fred Girard and the palatable luncheon that was served.

HIGHLAND PARK.

St. Leo's Church to Be the Scene of Impressive Devotions.

Rev. Father Fitzgerald, the faithful and hard-working pastor of St. Leo's church, at Highland Park, has arranged an impressive programme of services for the month of May. First, he will have the beautiful Forty Hours' prayer, beginning at the high mass at 10:15 o'clock tomorrow morning, when there will be a procession and singing by the school children and a sermon by the pastor. Vespers and benediction will occur at 7:30 in the evening, when the sermon will be preached by the eloquent young pastor of St. William's, the Rev. Father Denis Murphy.

On Sunday morning, May 19, the children of the parish will receive their first holy communion, for which many preparations are being made. In the afternoon the May procession will take place, participated in by the school children and the sodality. For this occasion one of the most prominent priests in the diocese has been invited and promised to deliver the sermon. At this season of the year the ride to Highland Park is delightful, and for all who visit St. Leo's church Father Fitzgerald has a cordial welcome.

WHAT NEXT?

France Robbing the Church of Art Treasures Worth Millions.

The art treasures contained in the French churches will not be sold or disposed of with the sacred buildings or with the residences of Bishops and priests, which will soon become the property of the municipalities or the State. A circular letter has been issued to all the Prefects of France by the Ministry of Fine Arts, instructing them that a commission of experts has been appointed, charged with making up a list of all such works of art, said to be worth $60,000,000 in the churches alone, besides what are to be found in the Episcopal residences and the numerous presbyteries just vacated. If the Government's crusade against the Church shall be kept up it is expected that eventually the National Museums will be enriched with great collections of ecclesiastical art of centuries past.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

Cleveland has commenced arranging for the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, which is to be held in that city next August. The Chamber of Commerce Hall, the largest one in Cleveland, will be engaged for three days.

RED HAT.

Archbishop Bourne Said to Be Opposing Appointment of an American.

His Friends Declare That Cardinal Is Needed For England.

Not Persons Grata With the Curia or Papal Secretary of State.

HAS BEEN WAITING FOUR YEARS

The Rome correspondent of the New York Times cables that paper that Monsignor Francis Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, London, is in Rome, and according to reports in circulation is here "to fight America." It seems that from reports which have reached him, at the next consistory there will be only one Anglo-Saxon Cardinal, and of course the Archbishop from mixed feelings of patriotism and nationalism, and possibly of personal ambition, would like to obtain that single red hat, should it be destined to rest on an English head.

He and his friends have abundant arguments to sustain his cause. England has now been without any member in the Sacred College since the death of Cardinal Vaughan in June, 1903. They point out the necessity for the Catholic Church in England to have a high dignitary, in order to maintain her prestige and influence, which practically means that there is no one but Mgr. Bourne who can be thus honored, as the other candidate who has often been mentioned, the learned Benedictine, Abbot Francis Aidan Gasquet, would have to be called to Rome as a Cardinal of the Curia, to which the Pontiff objects, as he thinks that the Cardinals living in Rome are already too many and weigh too much on the finances of the Holy See, from which they draw their salary.

Archbishop Bourne also hints that his elevation to the purple being delayed places him in a difficult position, he appearing as though he were not fit for the place. Among his predecessors, Mgr. Wiseman was appointed Archbishop of Westminster on September 29, 1850, and created Cardinal the next day, while Mgr. Vaughan was nominated to the Archbishopric on April 8, 1892, and entered the Sacred College nine months later. Although these are not precedents, still it becomes quite marked that Mgr. Bourne, who was the first Archbishop appointed by the present Pope on September 2, 1903, four years later has not yet received the red hat.

His friends furthermore argue that America, having already one Cardinal, does not need another, especially as there are already two Irish Cardinals in the persons of Michael Logue, Archbishop of Armagh, and Patrick Moran, Archbishop of Sydney, so that the appointment of whatever ecclesiastic is now prominent in the American hierarchy would in reality mean another Irishman in the Sacred College, as all the candidates in the United States, such as Mgrs. Farley, Ireland, Ryan, etc., are either Irish born or of Irish parentage.

The object of Mgr. Bourne, however, may be defeated. It must not be forgotten that when Mgr. Vaughan died, Leo XIII. was still alive, and the list sent to the Congregation of the Propaganda for the choice of his successor contained, besides Mgr. Bourne's name, that of Raphael Merry del Val, then a simple prelate, but President of the Academy of Noble Ecclesiastics here. Agitation was started among English Catholics to oppose the appointment of Merry del Val, and it was supposed that Mgr. Bourne, who was then Bishop of Southwark, would be able to part in it, although it was led by the Duke of Norfolk, protesting against the mere idea of having for Archbishop of Westminster a prelate who, although born in London, was a Spanish subject and the son of a Spanish diplomat.

GREAT DERBY.

Louisville Jockey Club Spring Meeting Opens Next Monday.

Anxiously are the lovers of the thoroughbred waiting for the bugle to call the horses to the post on Monday, when the Louisville Jockey Club will open its thirty-third annual spring meeting and the Kentucky Derby, the classic event of the West, will be run. Manager Matt Winn and his associates have perfected every arrangement, and no race meeting ever given in this city has created more interest. Judge Charles F. Price will again preside, and this means a square deal from start to finish. Stabled at the track are thousands of horses, including the crack runners from all sections of the country. The Derby will bring out a good field, many being of opinion that this will be a record-breaking race. Another race that will almost equal the Derby is the Clark handicap, to be run next Saturday. There will be six races each day during the meeting, and the purses hung up are certain to bring out big fields. For the past week a large force of men have been kept busy putting new touches on the grandstand, clubhouse and other buildings, and Monday the historic Churchill Downs will present a most inviting appearance.

FEDERATION.

Matters of Importance For Consideration Thursday Night.

The regular monthly meeting of the Federation of Catholic Societies will be held at the Catholic Woman's Club next Thursday night. Several matters of considerable importance are to be brought before the meeting, therefore the officers expect and hope that all delegates will be present. The idea of having or procuring a promoter or organizer in each society or parish will be a matter up for discussion and for probable action. It is also expected that the committee from the St. Vincent de Paul Society will by that time have received instructions, and be ready to submit their report.

President Rogers will have copies of the Federation Bulletin for distribution. This paper will be found full of information on Catholic and Federation matters. Patrick T. Sullivan will be present and read an interesting historical paper. The delegates from Trinity Council will have charge of the general entertainment for this meeting, and all in all it may be promised in advance that all who attend will spend an evening of instruction and enjoyment.

At the June meeting it is expected that an address will be delivered by one of the best known priests in the city, when the representatives of the various commanderies of the Knights of St. John will provide the general entertainment for the evening.

FOR MILITARY MASS.

Magnificent Domed Altar at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Some of the more important details of preparation for the big memorial military mass to be said at the Brooklyn Navy Yard on Sunday, May 26, under the direction of Long Island Chapter, Knights of Columbus, have been announced. The Knights are composing an imposing altar and canopy from designs drawn by an architect, who has made a specialty of cathedral architecture. The altar will rest on a platform five feet high. On the altar will be the tabernacle, beautifully designed and decorated, and on top of this a magnificent cross. Covering all will be a canopy or dome representing the heavens and finished in blue, white and gold. The height from base to tip of cross is fifty feet. In case it should rain this dome will give protection to the priests on the altar.

The Knights are not forgetting the military feature. The uniformed corps has mapped out an extensive routine of drill, so they will be able to execute the various evolutions almost as well as regular troops. The flowers used to decorate the altar will after the ceremony be taken to the various cemeteries to decorate the graves of the soldier and sailor dead, especially the graves of those who have left no friend or relative to do this sacred service for them. The first Regiment, Irish Volunteers, Col. E. P. Gilgar commanding, and the Second Regiment of the same body, Major Daniel O. Gillespie commanding, have decided to use every effort to get the full strength of both commands out on May 26. The Police Band of the City of New York has been invited to participate in the service, and has by unanimous vote decided to accept the invitation.

HOME FOR BOYS.

Prospects Bright For Such an Institution in Near Future.

Several months ago the Kentucky Irish-American called attention to the necessity for a home for young boys in this city, where they would be surrounded by Christian influences after they had performed their day's labor. Prominent members of the clergy and laity have become interested in the matter, and we are now inclined to the opinion that such an institution will be instituted here in the near future. There are many boys who are neglected and dependent, and a home such as was suggested would be the means of saving them from lives that are not at all what they should be. These unfortunate can not gain admission to the orphan asylums, and too often they fall into quarters where there is no care for their moral or spiritual welfare, with the result that they become criminals and a menace to society. With the idea of remedying this evil the Christian men of Louisville should lend all the aid in their power to a home for the friendless and unfortunate boys, who in such an institution would be transformed into useful and upright citizens.

SACRED HEART RETREAT.

The feast of St. Paul of the Cross was observed at the Sacred Heart Retreat, on the Newburg road, last Sunday with impressive ceremonies.

morning and afternoon services. The large crowds attended both the sermon was preached by the Rev. Denis Murphy, and was pronounced by all a most scholarly and masterful effort. At the request of prominent laymen and members of the clergy, it will be printed in full in this week's Record, and should be read by all who did not hear it delivered.

ASSURED FACT

That Work on Trinity Council's Home Will Begin Next Week.

The meeting of Trinity Council, Y. M. I., Tuesday evening will long be remembered for the large attendance present and the harmony and good feeling prevailing, with the determination to build the club house or parish in the attempt. At the opening of the discussion of the club house project President Conkling stated that he had conducted negotiations with a building and loan company, with the view of securing funds for the work in case the plans met with the approval of the council. Splendid talks were made by Ben Hund, Dr. B. J. Lammers, A. F. Martin, David O'Connell and others, the keynotes of their arguments being that if the council approves the plans and suggestions offered by the Ways and Means Committee that the club house will no longer be an idle dream but a substantial reality.

There is not the slightest doubt now that any of the members are fearful of the outcome, and after the ratification of the plans and specifications next Tuesday evening work on the building will be begun immediately. Louis Kiefer and C. H. Zook, of Mackin Council, were present and invited Trinity to attend the comic opera performance to be given by Mackin Council the latter part of this month. At this juncture President Conkling gave way to the Entertainment Committee, composed of Dr. J. P. Bente, Jr., Dr. Lammers, Ben Hund, and John Cuniffe, who dispensed lunch, cigars and liquid refreshments for the benefit of the inner man.

LAID TO REST.

Sudden and Unexpected Death of Rev. Father Edward Donnelly.

Rev. Edward T. Donnelly, pastor of St. Joseph's church at Warsaw, in the Covington diocese, died Friday after an illness of a few days of paralysis of the brain, aged forty-eight years. He was a native of Hartford, Conn., graduating at Yale College, and later finished his theological course for the priesthood. He was a man of deep learning, a gifted orator and a conversationalist and charitable in a marked degree. Father Donnelly had a large circle of friends among prominent people all over the United States, having held several important charges in large cities and in various parts of Kentucky, and was former pastor of St. Patrick's church at Newport. The funeral was held at Warsaw on Tuesday morning, Vicar General Brossart, of Covington, officiating in lieu of Right Rev. Bishop Maes, who is absent in Europe, and the services were participated in by many priests from throughout the diocese.

HOLY LIFE ENDS.

Sister Mary Kevin, Mother Superior of Bethlehem Academy.

Thursday dispatches were received here bringing the sad intelligence that Sister Mary Kevin, Mother Superior of Bethlehem Academy in Hardin county, was dead of appendicitis, aged forty-eight years. She took the veil at eighteen years of age and has been a nun for thirty years, belonging to the Loretto order. Her maiden name was Mary Coffey, and she was born in St. Louis, where she has a brother, Father James T. Coffey, pastor of the St. Leo church in that city. She became a novitiate in 1878 and took her vows in 1880, and was sent to Birmingham, Ala., where she taught for five years. She was then transferred to Marshall, Mo., where she became Mother Superior in a seminary. Sister Mary was next appointed director of studies at the Loretto Heights at Denver, Colo. She was then transferred to Birmingham, Ala., and made Mother Superior of an academy there. She was sent to Lebanon, where she presided over St. Augustine's Academy for eight years, after which she was made Mother Superior at Bethlehem Academy, where she died.

HOLDS WORLD'S RECORD.

Fifty-six times around Cape Horn as master is a record held by only one man in the world, it is said, and he is Capt. James F. Murphy, in command of the four mast Bath steel ship William P. Frye. The fifty-seventh venture through the "roaring forties" and around the Horn will be started from Baltimore as soon as the Frye is loaded with coal for San Francisco.

In his voyaging around the Horn Capt. Murphy computes the distances made at 900,000 miles. "During these trips," said Capt. Murphy, "I never had an accident to a ship, and never went through the trials of having trouble with my crew. Mutinous men never cropped up on any ship I ever commanded in that way."

IRISH BISHOPS.

Issue Declaration Stating Position on University Education Question.

Hope For a Measure That Will Give Country a Fresh Start.

Prepared to Accept Less Than to Which They Are Entitled.

THANKS FOR THE NATIONALIST PARTY

The declaration issued by his Eminence Cardinal Logue and the Bishops of Waterford, Down and Connor, on behalf of the Irish Bishops, on the subject of the university measure promised by the Government, sets at rest all doubt as to the attitude of the Irish episcopacy on the subject, and is entirely satisfactory as affording promise of the impending agreeable settlement of this long-standing grievance of Irish Catholics. We can not do better than quote a few paragraphs from this important declaration.

"The emphatic and explicit contradiction by the present Chief Secretary of the mischievous assertion that the Government had resolved to postpone to another session of Parliament the introduction of their bill dealing with this question has been a further assurance to us of the earnestness and good faith of the Government, and we are now full of hope that before the end of this year we shall see a provision made for higher education in Ireland that will give this country a fresh start in life, and a chance of realizing the hopes of progress which recently have been stirring among us.

"As to the particular plan of reform on which the Government has resolved to proceed, it is, in our opinion, quite possible, within the general outline of that plan, to meet substantially the claims that we have repeatedly put forward on behalf of the Catholic body in Ireland, and at the same time make suitable provision for the general educational interests of the country. We and the Catholic body in Ireland, whose interests we have advocated all through the course of the justice of our full claim to a university which would be in harmony with our religious beliefs and sentiments, and be governed on Catholic principles, which we are not blind to the fact that the legislation for which we look has to come from a Parliament that is overwhelmingly Protestant, and that will naturally have regard to the principles which have determined its action in similar cases for Protestants, establishing a system of university education for a predominantly Catholic nation, constitutes a state of things in which compromise is essential to a settlement, and it is in that sense that we have stated that we and our Catholic fellow-countrymen are prepared to accept less than the full claim to which we should be justly entitled.

"On the supposition, then, that the Government gives us an adequate and worthy scheme on any one of the three plans which we put before the recent Royal Commissions, we for our part shall be prepared to accept it as the time of the settlement, in our time, of the Irish university question. Of course, neither we nor any one else can foresee what the natural development of institutions may bring with it, but on the condition just stated, as far as we are concerned, we will consider the Catholic grievance as removed, and the whole question closed.

"We would, however, most earnestly plead with the Government for immediate action. The people of this country have so often seen their hopes dashed that any postponement, following on the striking pronouncements by which Ministers of the Crown have, evidently of set purpose, concentrated public opinion on this question, would cause grave disappointment, and by mischance the final settlement was lost through delay, there would of necessity be a strong revulsion of feeling among our fellow-countrymen."

Appended to the declaration is a resolution thanking the Irish Parliamentary party for "their invaluable advocacy of the claims of the Irish people of the matter of higher education," and expressing confidence that the party will lose no opportunity of pushing those claims without delay to a satisfactory conclusion. So many people had entertained doubt as to whether the Liberal proposals on this head would satisfy the Irish Bishops, more especially in view of Secretary Birrell's connection with the English education bill of last year, that it is eminently satisfactory to find that their Lordships express such unmistakable approval of the Government's proposals.

SUMMER IN EUROPE.

Henry A. Kraft, the well-known butcher and capitalist, and his estimable wife left Tuesday for a six months' trip to Europe. They sailed from New York for Naples, from where they will proceed to Rome, and after a couple of weeks there will journey through Italy, Switzerland, France, Germany and Ireland. Two weeks will be devoted to the Dublin Exposition, and then they expect to sail for home. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them for a pleasant voyage and safe return.

COADJUTORSHIP.

The Kentucky Irish American last week discounted the rumors concerning the appointment of a Coadjutor Bishop and changes in the administration of the affairs of the Louisville diocese. The daily press gave assurance that the appointment of Monsignor Farrelly was to be announced in Rome last Monday, but it was not. Our neighbor, the Evening Times, interesting though erratic, seems determined to give us a Coadjutor, and after telling that Father Farrelly was born in Arkansas, about fifty years ago, has this to say:

"Father Farrelly received his early education at St. Mary's College in this State. Soon after leaving this institution he went to Rome, where for the next nine years his education was continued at the best institutions in the Eternal City. It was while at school at St. Mary's that Father Farrelly determined to enter the priesthood. He was ordained a priest in Rome, and remained there in one of the churches for several years. He then returned to this country, and for five years was connected with the Cathedral in Nashville, Tenn. He was then called back to Rome, where he entered the American College and where he has remained for the past twenty years. During the later years of her life his mother went to Rome and lived with him. She died there several years ago."

Unless the Times dates are "pied" Father Farrelly must indeed have received an early education at St. Mary's. Spending several years in Rome after his ordination, five years at the Nashville Cathedral, and the past twenty years in Rome, the question is what was Father Farrelly's age at the time of his ordination. The Times will have to come stronger to make us change the opinion expressed last week.

YOUR EASTER DUTIES.

The time has come again during which the Catholic Church commands every one of her children to receive the sacraments of confession and communion—in other words, to make their Easter duties. To disobey this command is the most grievous neglect of which a Catholic can be guilty; it even makes him liable to be cut off from the communion of the members of the church. Such a Catholic is guilty of a great mortal sin and he willfully remains on the road that ends in damnation. Make up your mind to receive the sacraments worthily; to be reconciled once more to the Heavenly Father and to receive from Him the grace which is to help you to eternal salvation. God's goodness and mercy are infinite; His greatest desire is to forgive the sinners, but woe to those who despise His mercy and refuse the grace He offers them. Their end will be very evil; their lot will be with the impenitent sinners.

HAVE RIGHT RING.

President Roosevelt's speech, when opening the Jamestown Exposition, had the right ring. Throughout the sentiment expressed was worthy the man and occasion, and every true American should feel especially proud of the spirit that prompted the following utterances:

"I believe that there is a rising tide in human thought which tends for righteous international peace; a tide which it behooves us to guide through rational channels to sane conclusions; and all of us here present can well afford to take to heart St. Paul's counsel: 'If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.'"

"This great republic of ours shall never become the government of a plutocracy, and it shall never become the government of a mob. God willing, it shall remain what our fathers who founded it meant it to be—a government in which each man stands on his worth as a man, where each is given the largest personal liberty consistent with securing the well-being of the whole, and where, so far as in us lies, we strive continually to secure for each man such equality of opportunity that in the strife of life he may have a fair chance to show the stuff that is in him."

Proceeding on the lines upon which this country was founded and observing the maxims of our forefathers, with equal justice for rich and poor alike, the greatest and best government the world has ever known will continue for all time.

FRESH AIR AND LIFE.

Plenty of fresh air in our living rooms, in our public conveyances, in our bedchambers, our schools, our churches, would insure us longer lives and more joy in living. We may avoid drafts and protect ourselves from the effect of a sudden chill by the judicious choice of warm wool for our underclothing and by loose, well made garments which confine no vital part. But let us have the window open, if not all the time then at intervals through the day, so that the house may be flooded with pure air and noxious germs put to flight. In many houses there is a constant and distressingly evident odor of dinners past and present pervading the atmosphere. The concentrated scents and essences of vegetables, of roasts and fries and broils cling to the furniture, fill the carpets and curtains, and subtly do violence to the refinement which should belong to every beautifully appointed home. Ten minutes' airing of a house three times a day, after each meal, would suffice to exorcise the ghosts of departed dinners and sweeten. No odor should be suffered to permeate a house except that sweet fragrance which comes from absolute inviolate cleanliness and from flowers which are agreeable to every sense.

What has Secretary Quarles against the Irish, French and Italian immigrants? Those who have made Louisville their home have proved law-abiding and industrious, and have materially aided in making our city the metropolis of the South. The Employers' Association should not for a moment tolerate any policy that bears the least taint of religious or race prejudice. Kentucky needs immigrants? Those who have made it not only secure them while there is left anything of the spirit that stopped the tide more than fifty years ago. We would suggest that Secretary Quarles broaden his ideas and bring to our State the industrious and self-sustaining foreigner, no matter from what country he comes.

In an editorial touching upon the Protestant clergy, the Cincinnati Enquirer confesses that "there has been a falling off not only in the numbers, but in the ability and general make-up of young men seeking the ministry, and this has been widely proclaimed by the churches and their seminaries. This has been due to the unsettled condition of questions of belief, and to the fact that capable, ambitious young men find more to attract them in other callings, and to there being inadequate compensation in the ministry." With them the question has come to be one almost entirely of material results.

The condition of labor throughout the country were never more satisfactory than at present. From East and West, North and South, come reports that all who will work can secure employment. Industrial peace prevails everywhere, which insures both employers and employees another year of prosperity and happiness. This is in a large measure due to the adoption of the plan to recognize each other and adjust all differences by arbitration.

Our Catholic pastors and societies should do all in their power to assist the printers in their fight for an eight-hour day at union wages by demanding the union label on all of their printing. It is not only beneficial to the allied printing trades, but to the workmen in general, and there can be no denial of the fact that the workmen and their families are the bone and sinew of the Church and the societies that enroll under its banner.

Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin, of the University of Chicago: "The man who is fit succeeds and the man who is unfit fails, and when men who fail wish society to do for them what they confess to being incompetent to do for themselves, we have the explanation of the demand of socialism, for socialism is the philosophy of failure."

This is the month of May, and in the Catholic church is devoted to the Blessed Virgin Mary. In every church special services in her honor will be held and participated in by all the faithful.

The New York Legislature passed the Page child labor bill, which makes it a misdemeanor to employ minors in factories more than eight hours in twenty-four.

Some men are as out of date as last year's popular song.

SONG OF RICHES.

I've a dollar in me pocket
An' wid wealth o' health I'm blest,
An' me picture in a locket
On a pretty colleen's breast.
An' I'll be as rich tomorrow
If the Lord continues kind,
So there isn't room for sorrow
In a corner o' me mind.
What a future may be bearin'
I have little care to know,
Shure, we'll none of us be carin'
In a thousand years or so.

Ye have spoke the word that's bound ye,
Kate machree, to be my wife;
Here's two arms to put around ye
An' to work for ye for life,
An' to make a home that's pleasant,
Ay! an' fit to have ye in.
Faix, there's no time like the present,
Katie, darlin', to begin,
Then, through fair an' stormy weather,
If we're daicnt here below,
Shure, we still may be together
In a thousand year or so.

SOCIETY.

Miss Anna May Glenn is home from Bloomfield, where she visited her sister, Mrs. A. M. Causey.

Mrs. Edward Doyle, 423 O street, has almost entirely recovered from a severe attack of grip.

Martin J. Dugan's friends were all glad to see him out this week, after an illness of three months.

Miss Leonora Winn has returned to her home at Midway, after a pleasant visit with relatives in this city.

Mrs. John Griffin, who arrived here last week to visit relatives, has returned to her home in Frankfort.

Mrs. Roy Neighbors, of South Louisville, has returned from a visit to her parents at Elizabethtown.

Miss Jessie McCaulliffe is at her home in South Louisville, after an enjoyable visit to friends in Cincinnati.

James J. Mann, who has been ill for the past couple of weeks, is now improving rapidly and expects to be out again shortly.

Miss Sophie Wathen left Tuesday for Lebanon to visit her uncle, R. M. Wathen, one of that city's most influential and representative men.

John J. Grogan is now at work on a small book for the benefit of a select coterie of his friends entitled "Why some men remain single."

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Coll, of Jeffersville, are expecting their daughter, Mrs. Neal McMamara, of Keokuk, to pay them a lengthy visit.

Edward J. O'Brien and his son and daughter, Edward and Miss Marie, have been enjoying a pleasant season of rest and recreation at French Lick Springs.

Mrs. Jack Gilbert, of Parkland, has gone to Jackson, Tenn., to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. M. F. Henry. She was accompanied by her little son.

Miss Willie Long, after a serious illness of typhoid fever at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, is at her home in South Louisville, almost entirely well.

Roscoe Deming and bride, who was Miss Lily Steele, have returned from their wedding trip to Chicago and are at home to their friends, at 729 Fifth street.

John McDonald, who was here for a brief visit to relatives, left Wednesday for Blackwood, Va., where he holds a responsible position with the Blackwood Mining Company.

Frank Martin, a prominent member of the Uniform Rank, C. K. of A., who has been threatened with typhoid fever, is now convalescing rapidly at his home on East Gray street.

Joseph Thieman and bride, who were married last week at Birmingham, Ala., have been spending their honeymoon here and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thieman.

Attorney James J. Fitzgerald, accompanied by Mr. P. H. Callahan, left Wednesday for French Lick Springs, where Mr. Fitzgerald hopes to recuperate from a threatened illness.

William J. Keeley, of 607 West St. Catherine, who has been ill with pneumonia at St. Joseph's Infirmary, is now improving rapidly and his physician predicts his removal home in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kraft arrived in New Albany last Saturday from a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Eastern cities, and have taken up their residence at East Ninth and Spring streets.

Mrs. Patrick Walsh and Miss Elizabeth Walsh, of the West End, have been having a delightful visit in Cleveland, where they went to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gibbons, who are frequent visitors and have numerous friends in Louisville.

The engagement of Miss Lillian I. Burke and Charles J. Elbrich, of Lexington, has been announced, and their marriage will take place in June. The bride-elect is the accomplished daughter of Lieut. Edward J. Burke and a well known school teacher.

The most brilliant wedding of the season in Evansville was witnessed Tuesday at the Church of the Assumption, when Miss Charlotte Wright became the bride of Charles Budd, of Kansas City, a former resident of Owensboro and well known throughout Kentucky.

The many friends of Mrs. Thomas Holden, who has been seriously ill at the residence of Mrs. Matt Cassin in Flora Heights, will be relieved to know that her condition is steadily improving and that it is now thought she will soon be able to return to her home in Muncie, Ind.

One of the prettiest of the June weddings will be that of Miss Magdalen Tattle and Paul Coleman next Wednesday. It will be a church wedding and will take place at St. Mary Magdalen's at 3 o'clock. Father William Gausepohl will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Tuttle.

An interesting June wedding was solemnized with a nuptial mass Wednesday morning at St. Anthony's church, the contracting parties being Miss Lula Herp and Edward Borntraeger, the ceremony being witnessed by a large gathering of relatives and acquaintances. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Catherine Herp, Twenty-fourth street, whose charming manner and many accomplishments have made her a favorite in society circles. Mr. Borntraeger, who is with the Evening Post, resides in the East End, where he has a wide circle of friends. After the reception the couple left on their honeymoon trip, and upon their return they will be at home at 819 Twenty-fourth street.

GOING AHEAD.

Mackin Council Will Initiate Twenty-Five Members in June.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., continues its steady growth. At a fairly well attended meeting Tuesday night President Sand started preparations for the next initiation, which has been set for the first Tuesday in June, when the degrees will be conferred on a class of twenty-five candidates. Only two members now remain on the sick list and both were reported improving. The Social Club announced the close of its season Monday night with the most successful and enjoyable dance of the series, and that the club would soon turn a handsome sum over to Treasurer Dan Weber.

Among the communications read was one from Fred Zahn, resigning as Corresponding Secretary. His new duties at the White City made it impossible for him to longer fill the office, and it was with regret the resignation was accepted. Louis Kinsella, George Simons and John Hancock were placed in nomination to fill the vacancy at an election to be held Monday night.

An important amendment to the election law was introduced, providing that hereafter the nomination and election of delegates to the Grand Council shall be held on the second Tuesday in June. Mackin Council will this year be entitled to six delegates and a lively contest will take place for the coveted honor.

CATHOLIC PIONEERS.

Commemorated in Panels That Adorn Joliet High School.

The panels painted by William Penhallow Henderson for the entrance hall of the township High School at Joliet, Ill., are attracting a deal of attention. The color of the pictures is carried into the uncovered walls and the ceilings by saffron gray, slightly touched with lavender, and the narrow gold strips which separate the borders from the pictures are repeated in the ceiling to a pattern of gold stars and gold and silver moon. Most of the panels are portraits of men famous in the history of Illinois. The portrait panels of Marquette, an arrangement in blue and black, and of Joliet, an arrangement in rose and gold, together with the "Last Sermon of the Rose," a twilight landscape in rose, gray and black, have attracted special attention. The last named picture represents a procession of Indians and priests carrying the bones of Marquette to their last resting place in the little chapel on the straits of Mackinaw.

WIFE IDENTIFIED BODY.

The body of the man who was found in the Ohio river Wednesday morning was identified as Bernard Maley, former night dynamo tender at the Louisville Lighting Company's plant, Fourteenth and Magazine, who had been missing since January 10. The identification was made by his wife, Mrs. Victorine Maley, of 536 Twenty-third street, who fell senseless when she discovered her husband. For some time before he disappeared Maley had been suffering from melancholia. This is the only cause known for his disappearance. He was not a drinking man and had no serious troubles. Besides his wife he leaves five children. Maley was a native of Ireland, but came to Louisville when only ten years old.

Thursday evening there was some doubt as to the identification, parties claiming that the body was that of a man named Jones and not Maley.

MACKIN'S OPERA.

The comic opera to be given by Mackin Council at the Mary Anderson on May 20 and 21 promises to be an artistic success. Mackin has given the company the exclusive use of its large hall and frequent rehearsals are held at the theater. The seventy-five young people who will take part in the production include the best talent in the city, and already there is a great demand for seats.

ANDY KAST WELL.

Andrew Kast, assistant superintendent in the City Engineer's department, who has been seriously ill of typhoid fever at his home for the past two months, was able to be out Wednesday, and was everywhere received with the glad hand. Next week he will again take charge of his department.

Fontaine Ferry Park Will Be Free to All This Year.

The opening of Fontaine Ferry tomorrow without any charge for admission has aroused widespread interest, and words of commendation are being heard on every side on account of this popular move. When the gates open to the amusement-seeking population a treat for them will be in sight. Everything connected with the grounds has undergone a decided change, and the beauty and splendor of this family resort will be augmented by a large number of amusement features. A new bandstand has been built which will accommodate organizations upwards to sixty pieces. The free band concerts which proved so popular last year will be repeated, and for the opening week the Trio DeLaur, famous operatic soloists, will sing in the open air to the accompaniment of Cook's Military Band. Everything tending to please the roller skating fraternity of the Falls Cities has been done. The skating rink inclosure has been resurfaced and an entire stock of new skates has been secured. An exceptionally fine bill of vaudeville is scheduled for the "opener" of Hopkins' summer theater. The management will cling to its fixed policy of maintaining the highest standard of order everywhere on the grounds.

RECENT DEATHS.

Matthew Brady, a well known and industrious resident of the West End, died Sunday evening at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Michael Quinn, 1723 Baird street. For many years he had been a member of St. Michael's church, from which the funeral took place Wednesday morning.

William Kindrigan, a well known member of St. Patrick's parish, passed peacefully to his eternal reward on Wednesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. William McDonald, 228 Twelfth street. His funeral took place yesterday morning and the interment was in St. Louis cemetery.

The funeral of Martin A. Connaughton, whose death occurred Monday night, took place Wednesday morning with a solemn requiem mass, celebrated by Rev. Father Walsh, at the Sacred Heart church. Deceased was the son of the late Martin Connaughton, and his demise is deeply mourned by a wide circle of friends.

We regret to announce the death of James Foster Vesey Fitzgerald, K. C. The deceased gentleman, who resided on Lower Baggett street, was a Justice of the Peace for the County of Clark, in which he had a country seat at Moyreisk Quinn. He had been seriously ill for some time, and while going from one room to another at the University Club, Stephens Green, he fell and expired.

With feelings of sincere regret the many friends and relatives of Mrs. Freda Howlett, beloved wife of Byrd Howlett, 1514 Seventeenth street, learned of her death on Monday evening, after a short illness. Her funeral took place Thursday morning from St. Peter's church, and the large attendance at the solemn obsequies evidenced the great respect in which she was held.

The funeral of George Anger, who died Saturday morning at his home, 220 Thirty-sixth street, took place from the Church of Our Lady, Rev. Father Conniff celebrating the solemn requiem mass. He was born in Germany seventy-five years ago. He came to this country at an early age, and engaged in the Civil war on the Confederate side. He is survived by a wife and three children, all of whom live in this city.

FORESTER OFFICERS.
St. Boniface Court, the pioneer in Louisville for the Catholic Order of Foresters, is promised an excellent administration by the following officers:
Chief Ranger—Anton Huckenbeck.
Deputy Chief—James M. Coll.
Vice Chief—Martin N. Stocker.
Recording Secretary—T. J. Leahy.
Financial Secretary—Wm. F. Krul.
Treasurer—Henry Bousse, Jr.
They have gone to work to secure a membership of 150, and when this is accomplished they propose instituting a second court in St. Louis Bertrand's parish. The meetings are held in St. Boniface Hall on East Green street.

HOSPITAL ADDITION.
Sister Regina, Superior of the Sisters of Mercy, in Jeffersonville, has practically matured plans for the building of a handsome addition to the present Jeffersonville hospital at a cost of $50,000.

RECOVERED.
Hon. Asher G. Caruth, who for some time was thought to be fatally ill of pneumonia, has almost entirely recovered, and may be able to be at his office today. The Judge has undergone a long illness, friends

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The Catholic Knights' Central Committee will hold its regular monthly meeting next Friday night at St. Mary's Hall, and members of all the branches are invited to be present. Committees named at the last meeting and the officers are expected to submit some interesting reports. The anniversary parade must also be arranged for, and a church selected where all will attend solemn vespers.

RECOVERED.

Magistrate Edward O'Connor will return to-day from French Lick Springs, where he went for a week's rest and recuperation. For the past six months Magistrate O'Connor has been overcrowded with work, to which he devoted so much of his time that he was breaking down and a rest was absolutely necessary.

ANOTHER DIPLOMAT.

The Pope, it is said, has determined to send another diplomat to Paris to take charge of the palace of the Nunciature and has chosen Abbe Emanuel D'Orelli. The Abbe was born in France, and because of this can not be easily expelled by the French Government.

HOPE HE WILL.

Bishop Lillis, of the diocese of Leavenworth, when visiting Cardinal Merry del Val with Father Jenkins, of this State, on Wednesday was told by the Cardinal that he hoped in the future to visit the western and middle towns of the United States.

WOMEN POLICE.

Toledo is to have a staff of women policemen. This was decided last week at a meeting of the Board of Public Service. The women police will be detailed at the various parks to look after wayward children who frequent them at night. While they will be vested with full police authority they will be under control of the Juvenile Court.

Every man needs a trousers stretcher, but he has no use for a leg puller.

WHITE CITY GROWS.

Auspicious Opening of Louisville's Summer Amusement Resort.

The White City, Louisville's latest and greatest summer amusement and recreation resort, had a most auspicious and satisfactory opening last Saturday, and on Sunday at least 20,000 people crowded the place. Everything is now in perfect running order, all the mechanical features being enjoyed to the fullest extent, and the White City is in full commission. The immense electric tower and the dancing pavilion overlooking the river are finished. While the dancing pavilion will give joy to thousands all during the summer, the electric tower is a feature of beauty that must be seen to be appreciated. It will have thousands of electric lights studding it from base to top, and on the top the big searchlight will add its part toward making the White City almost as bright as day. Each evening this week large crowds were delighted with the many features and amusements, and from expressions heard there is no doubt that the White City is already an assured success.

HINTS ON STYLE.

The short kimona is very popular as a dressing sacque.

Hats trimmed with ostrich plumes are to be worn through the summer.

All the new corsets have nearly straight busts, and in front are of medium height.

Closely following voiles in popularity are fine yarn, light-weight worsted suitings.

For dressy wear throughout the summer the lace and lingerie coat will be considerably used.

Sailor suits for girls are popular for school frocks. They are shown in serge and wash materials.

In skirts for misses the pleated types are the most popular, though some plain effects are also taken.

Many of the new hats now exhibited are so gay with flowers that they resemble miniature gardens.

Hand-embroidered and lace-trimmed petticoats were never so attractive as those now displayed for summer.

In fashions for little girls, the blouse effects and short sleeves predominate in dresses of washable material.

Kimonas for children are very similar to those for ladies' wear, the difference being in the method of ornamentation.

Rings and coin spots have a showing among novelties in spite of the great popularity of the checks, plaids and stripes.

Pleated skirts of all sorts are still extremely fashionable. They are so pretty and serviceable, they can not go out of style.

There is more than the usual novelty in separate skirts this season, owing to the use of both fancy and sheer materials.

Mourning at the present time is distinctly confined to black and white. Gray is no longer used, and violet and purple are not considered mourning at all.

Coats and capes of black silk are very smart. The black silk Etou and the black silk pony, as well as a few fitted styles in short black silk coats, are also popular.

Patterns in night gowns attracting attention are made of sheer nainsook, fashioned with Dutch necks, fine tucks stitched to yoke depth, and very short sleeves.

AMUSEMENTS.

The theatrical season is nearing its end. Macauley's will have only one or two more attractions, and the Mary Anderson will have Mrs. Fiske in the "New York Idea," the last half of next week.

Miner's Merry Burlesquers one of the best vaudeville attractions to appear here, to bring to a close the most successful season since the Buckingham's opening years ago.

INITIATION.

Branch 25, C. K. of A., will meet Monday night at St. John's school hall, Clay and Walnut, for the purpose of initiating new members and delivering several policies. The meeting will be an interesting one, and therefore, President Nathan and Secretary Mann urge all the members to attend.

AUDIENCE WITH HOLY FATHER.
The Holy Father, on Wednesday, granted an audience to Bishop Lillis, of Leavenworth. The Bishop presented to the Pope the Rev. Fathers MacInerney and Burke, of Kansas; Augustine, of Missouri; Clark and Menan, of Rhode Island, and Jenkins, of Kentucky.

A $350 Haines Bros. Piano Free.

IN EVEN EXCHANGE FOR THE OLDEST PIANO THAT IS NOW IN ACTUAL USE IN LOUISVILLE, NEW ALBANY OR JEFFERSONVILLE.

OUR REASON.

We are desirous of obtaining the oldest Piano that is in actual use in either of the three Falls Cities, for exhibition and advertising purposes, and in order to secure it we make the above liberal offer. It costs you absolutely nothing to enter your Piano in this contest.

THIS IS ALL YOU WILL HAVE TO DO—READ CAREFULLY.

First—Any Piano, whether it be a Grand, Square or Upright is eligible. Second—But it must be in actual use. Third—No Piano that has been stored away can be entered. Fourth—As Piano dealers we are in possession of data that will enable us to some extent to judge by the number and name of each piano sent in about how old it is, but in order that no mistake will be made, we will send one of our experienced representatives to examine each and every piano that in our estimation appears to be the oldest. Fifth—If the names of two or more Pianos are sent in and each appears to be very old we will be the sole judges as to who shall be awarded the New Haines Bros. Piano. Sixth—This contest closes at 7 p. m., May 15, 1907.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 1, 6 and 9 of St. Paul are all making large gains and initiations are the order.

Division 3 had another splendid meeting Thursday night, when more members were obligated.

County President Murphy has been out of the city, and there will be no meeting of the board until he returns.

The Maryland State Board of the Ladies' Auxiliary recently instituted a division at Govans with forty charter members.

County President Leeney has organized another division at New Britain, Conn., starting with fifty-nine members.

The two Duluth divisions are getting together a large delegation to go to St. Paul on June 2 for the laying of the corner stone of the Cathedral.

The members of Division 2 gave their new candidates a warm welcome last night. Con Ford and Joe Lynch have gone to work to procure another class.

The Ladies' Auxiliary had a well attended meeting Wednesday night. Miss Mary Sheridan presided and during the evening called on several, who responded with graceful speeches.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Division 2, of St. Paul, conferred the degrees on a large class of candidates at their last meeting, and then entertained Division 9 with a nice programme of exercises.

Every member of Division 4 should attend the meeting Wednesday night. Several important matters will be discussed, among them the annual celebration, for which time and place must be soon selected.

Division 1 of Minneapolis will commemorate the birthday anniversary of Ireland's beloved poet, Thomas Moore, on May 16. The programme will be musical and literary and will be followed by a dance.

Reports submitted Wednesday night show that it would be hard to improve on the business methods of the Ladies' Auxiliary. All the books are well kept and the treasury is being constantly increased.

An unusually small number attended the last meeting of Division 1, and therefore quite an amount of business has accumulated for next Tuesday night, when the officers hope all the members will be present.

Preparations are making for a big initiation by the Ladies' Auxiliary on the first Wednesday in June. This has been the annual custom, and as there is a large class awaiting the degree the event will be an important one.

From Miss Mary Corcoran, State President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, we learn that the five divisions in Kentucky are all prosperous and constantly adding to their number. She expects that when the next convention meets this State will show as great a percentage of growth as any. In the near future initiations will have been held by all and the membership may be doubled.

The Auditing Committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary spent a most enjoyable evening at the residence of Mrs. Daniel Dougherty on West Market street. After they had transacted the business for which they were called together they were entertained with a pretty programme and served refreshments. Those present were Margaret Foley, Mary Sheridan, Rose Kelly and Elizabeth King. The ladies will endeavor to have these meetings more frequently hereafter.

JOLLY DELMONT PARTY.

The tacky party and reception given by the Delmont Club last Monday night was a decided social success, attending hundred ladies and gentlemen, several and spending a most enjoyable evening. Visitors were shown through the club house, and treated most hospitably by Messrs. Louis Borntraeger, George Martin, Phil Haemish, Matt Schupp, Leo Kaufman, Conrad Kessler, Joe Pirman, Albert Rau, Herman Roehr, William Schueler, Edward Groeschel and William Gable. Tables in the parlors were loaded with things good to eat, and the club was lavish in its hospitality. The Delmont is the representative social organization of the East End, and owns a fine house and property on Story avenue.

ANOTHER JUBILEE.

Next year on Saturday, April 25, will occur the fifty anniversary and golden jubilee of the blessing and laying of the corner-stone of St. John's church. Clay and Walnut streets, which has had but one pastor during all those long years, the venerable and Very Rev. Father Bax.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The newly built Foresters' Hall at Tullamore was completely gutted by fire, entailing great loss.

During the first two weeks of April thirty five young boys and girls from Balliborough and district left for America.

Inland Revenue Officer Murray was presented with a combination smoking cabinet by his brother officers at Drogheda on his transfer to Derry, and with a handsome silver salver by a number of friends in the Catholic Club.

Two tenants named Shea and Keane, evicted over twenty years ago on the Cloumell estate in Drangan parish, have been restored to their holdings, mainly through the efforts of Very Rev. James Ryan, President of the East Tipperary Executive.

Not less than 168 ejection processes have been issued in the Castle-town district. For some time past the tenants on the Leigh White estate have endeavored to get the landlord to sell them either through the Estates Commissioner, or the Congested Districts Board, but without obtaining any satisfactory offer for settlement.

John O'Connell, Market street, Tipperary, reported to the police that while walking on St. Michael's road he was set upon, knocked down and robbed of a gold watch and chain, silver match box and a sum of money. His assailant was captured and proved to be a soldier named Albert Winwood, of the Lancashire Fusiliers stationed at Tipperary.

While working with others at the new Killaloe quarries a considerable quantity of slate and debris became detached and fell like an avalanche on John Foley and his son, Young Foley was caught under the slip and despite the heroic efforts of his father to release him was crushed almost to pulp. The unfortunate father had one arm ripped open and sustained other wounds which left his condition extremely critical.

In connection with the extensive fire that occurred on the range of mountains between Monaghan and Clogher, Solicitor William Martin, of Monaghan, has lodged claims amounting in all to $11,000 for malicious injury. It is alleged that the mountains were set fire to at different parts in the range, and as the heather is completely destroyed no cover has been left on the mountains for grouse, which are always plentiful there. As the burning took place in County Tyrone the claims will be heard at Clogher quarter sessions in June.

The pretty little chapel of the Presentation Convent at Carrick-on-Suir was the scene of a solemn and beautiful ceremonies associated with the profession and reception of a religious. The young ladies who made their solemn vows were Miss Teresa Meany, daughter of the late John Meany, High street, Kilkenny, and Miss Margaret Walsh, second daughter of Thomas Walsh, New street, Carrick-on-Suir. The Most Rev. Dr. Sheehan, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, presided at the ceremonies, and was attended by the Rev. Fathers Prendergast and Ward, of Carrick.

CONFIRMATION.

Rev. Patrick Walsh, rector of the Sacred Heart church, has made much preparation for the visit of Bishop McCloskey next Thursday morning, who will then administer the sacrament of confirmation to a class of about seventy-five children. These children will not receive their first holy communion until Trinity Sunday, but as both are events in which the greatest interest is taken the church at Seventeenth and Broadway will doubtless be thronged.

PRAISES FATHER ZOELLER.

The Lebanon Enterprise says the Rev. Andrew Zoeller, pastor of St. Xavier's church at Raywick, is a great reorganizer. In the short time he has been there he has reorganized the Total Abstinence Society, the choir and band, and has a move on foot to have the next school taught by the Sisters. Father Zoeller was, until recently, assistant at St. Mary's on Eighth street, and was known to a large number of people, who regretted his departure from the city.
